

SESSION 1:

Leadership 101 (Equip) – Basic Leadership Training

Emma Graetz, Grassroots Training

This session will provide new leaders with the foundations for leading on a camp or in a youth group.

Leading Well When Everyone is Looking at You [repeated in Session 2]

Travis Doecke, Wide Open

Leadership, and having the title of 'leader' has a funny way of corrupting even the most pure motives. During this session we'll explore leading with integrity, how being secure in the Father's love is the foundation, the reality that you'll never please everyone, the role of confidence and the most important person you'll ever need to lead. It will be packed with actionable tools, plenty of group discussion and take you deeper into the idea of leadership God created. It's gonna be a wild ride of learning!

Work and Christian Service

Eugene Minge, Pastor St Johns Lutheran Tea Tree Gully

Most of us need to work to earn the money to pay our bills, but how does that fit with Jesus' call for his followers to be servants (Mark 10:42-45)? Is our paid employment just something we have to do to get money? Or can our paid employment be an integral part of our ministry as God's people? Come and explore how your job can be a way that Jesus is calling you to serve the world in his name.

Biblical Leadership: Why It's Not Painting By Numbers

Noel Due, Ministry & Mission Support Pastor LCA SA/NT

Check out any bookshop and you'll find shelves bending under the weight of leadership books, manuals and DVDs. Each offers a different scheme. All promise success. They all cost money. Is it a jackpot: Just pick the right one and your home and dry? Or is Biblical leadership of a different order? This workshop explores the beating heart of leadership. It's not what you'll be able to buy off the shelf, but it might just save your life.

SESSION 2:

Leading a Small Group (Equip) – Basic Leadership Training

Emma Graetz, Grassroots Training

This session will give new leaders an opportunity to understand how to run an effective small group on a camp or in a youth group setting.

Leading Well When Everyone is Looking at You [repeated from Session 1]

Travis Doecke, Wide Open

Leadership, and having the title of 'leader' has a funny way of corrupting even the most pure motives. During this session we'll explore leading with integrity, how being secure in the Father's love is the foundation, the reality that you'll never please everyone, the role of confidence and the most important person you'll ever need to lead. It will be packed with actionable tools, plenty of group discussion and take you deeper into the idea of leadership God created. It's gonna be a wild ride of learning!

Practical Self Care

Anna Doecke, Journeez

Do you feel like you've given it all you've got? Sometimes wonder if you can keep going? Do you sometimes feel like you're being taken for granted?

In this workshop you will learn that self-care is about choices. We make them every day and they can make or break our day. What will you choose? Come and learn about what it means to have good self-care when serving in ministry and living everyday life. Gain tools and direction to continue on or begin your self-care journey and go away with some plans in place.

Following Jesus in a Consumer Culture

Eugene Minge, Pastor St Johns Lutheran Tea Tree Gully

The society in which we live is constantly telling us that we can find our sense of identity, value and purpose in the goods and services we buy. In direct contrast, Jesus calls us to deny ourselves, take up our cross and follow him (Matt 16:24). How do we follow Jesus faithfully in a consumer culture? How can adopting a counter-cultural lifestyle embody the gospel and help others find their identity, value and purpose in Jesus?

Responding to crisis (for experienced leaders/practitioners/directors/Pastors/layworkers)

Anna Kroehn, AK Creative Consulting

Experienced leaders: this workshop is an opportunity to explore what to do when crisis hits. Anna comes from a background of therapeutic work with young people in trauma or recovering from trauma, and in leadership of events, camps and ministry settings. This workshop will take some time to contemplate tricky situations you have found yourself in – how you responded – what you could have done differently – and provide a framework for responding to crisis situations in future.

Session 3:

Leadership 202 – Advanced Leadership Training

Emma Graetz, Grassroots Training

This session will provide experienced leaders with the tools they need to grow in their leadership while encouraging other leaders around them.

Do What Matters

Vicki Rochow, Grow Ministries

Leading our church through cultural change

Churches are losing both members and vitality as increasing numbers of young people disengage. Based on ground breaking research Grow Ministries provides principles that any congregation can use to involve and retain teenagers and young people.

Having the Hard Conversation with Campers

Eugene Minge, Pastor St Johns Lutheran Tea Tree Gully

There can be times on camp when someone will drop a bombshell and bring up a really difficult issue. While we can't prepare for everything we might face on camp, giving some thought to how we might respond can help us when the time comes. This workshop will give you a chance to listen to others about their experiences and learn together about how we can use the hard conversations on camp to point people to Jesus. (You will have a chance to contribute and specific issues or questions you would like to discuss anonymously at the start of the session/prior to the Emerge conference by...)

Young Adults: We Are The Church

Roelof Buitendag, Pastoral Student

We are the church, what that looks like, what that means.
